AMUSEMENTS

Miss Florence Gale, now one of the most prominent of the Shakespearian stars before the public supported by a company of well known Shakespearian artists, will produce "As You Like It" at the Hardwick theater next Wednesday evening, Dec. 28.

"All the world's a stage," wrote Shakespeare, and forthwith he proceeded to evolve creatures to make their entrance and their exits, and for an age or two they have been doing it, with no profit to the man who evolved them, save perhaps a never dying glory, a glory which will be triumphant when the present generation of playwrights and their puny works are gone and forgotten. Of all the successes evolved by Shakespeare, (and he never knew a failure), "As You Like It" is without question the most charming and noteworthy of the age, and the character of Rosalind the most interesting ever conceived by an author. The play is one which admits of most realistic production, by aid of artificial effects of scenery, which has been provided in this case, a carload of scenery being carried by the company.

The fashionable choice of this progressive age, is a thorough appreciation of these Shakespearian revivals, and a treat of this nature is in store for the appreciative people of Phoenix.

Reserved seats will be on sale at Goodman's drug store today at 12:00 m. (noon hour). Prices $1.50, $1.00, 75c, 50c, 25c.

REPUBLICAN'S PATTERN

10 CENTS EACH

4918 Girl's Blouse Waist, 8 to 14 y.s.

To Be Made With or Without the Fitted Lining.

Genuine blouse waists with generous fullness at the shoulders, both back and front, are among the latest developments for young girls, and are exceedingly attractive. This one is made of army blue French flannel with banding of black braid so suggesting a military feature, but countless other materials are equally appropriate. The lower edges are both excellent materials for the colder weather, while the model will be found well adapted to washable materials when the foundation lining is omitted. The straps over the shoulders are exceedingly becoming, and the sleeves are large enough for style and comfort without excessive fullness.

The waist consist of the fitted foundation, front and back. Both the front and the backs are laid in plaits at the outer portions of the shoulders and are gathered at the waist line. The closing is made invisibly at the center back and the neck is finished with a straight collar. The sleeves are made in one piece each, the fullness laid in plaits at the upper edge, which give a box pleated effect while the lower edges are finished with straight cuffs.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 3 1/2 yards 21 inches wide, 2 3/4 yards 27 inches wide, or 1 3/4 yards 44 inches wide, with 14 yards of braid to trim as illustrated.

The pattern 4918 is cut in sizes for girls of 6, 8, 12 and 14 years of age.
